Can Missions Engagement truly enrich your local church? Many see Missions as a one-way deal: send a pile of money and some of your best people to fulfill your part in the Great Commission. There are other options. Among them, robust three-way partnerships between your church, a mission organization and cross-cultural missionaries equips the local church for worldwide engagement as well as local outreach and spiritual maturity. Canada's multi-ethnic mosaic, combined with today's changing culture, provides unique and exciting opportunities to explore together. Join our dialogue to begin experiencing the full benefits of Missions Engagement.
